Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 26 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Changeable and windy with rain and showers, locally wintry.

Today:
Wet and windy through the morning with periods of rain, occasionally heavy, pushing across the region. Skies will brighten late morning onwards with sunshine and showers, wintry over hills. Feeling colder. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Windy with further showers merging into longer spells of rain. Showers turning wintry, especially over high ground where snow accumulations are likely in places. Widespread sharp frost and icy stretches. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Saturday:
Cold, bright and breezy on Saturday with wintry showers fading quickly. Any snow accumulations melting. Sunny spells during the afternoon before cloud thickens later allowing some evening rain over hills. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Windy and milder on Sunday with early rain. On Monday gales on hills and rain at times. Drier further east. Rain on Tuesday giving way to drier, brighter, colder weather.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.